

Thornburg Law Office is Keytesville Chamber of Commerce's Business of the Month
By Janet Weaver

Cliff Thornburg's Law Office, 119B E. Jackson, Keytesville, MO, is the March Business of the Month selected by the Keytesville Chamber of Commerce.

A native of neighboring Randolph County, thirty-three year old Cliff Thornburg graduated from Westran High School and received his B.A. Degree from Lincoln University in Jefferson City, Missouri. He then attended and is a graduate of Thomas M. Cooley Law School in Lansing, Michigan. When asked what made him want to go to law school, he replied that when looking to the future, he wanted a career that would allow him to stay in the area, but a profession that he could make a living doing here since there are not a wide variety of job opportunities in this primarily rural area.

Although Cliff and his wife, the former Jennifer Groteweil and their two sons Finley, age 2 ½ years, and Faron, age 3 months live in Huntsville, MO, the Thornburg Law Office is located in Keytesville. Cliff is in his office in Keytesville on Monday mornings and Tuesdays through Thursdays from 9 a.m. until late afternoons. The office is closed Fridays and the weekends.

Cliff practices in Chariton, Linn, Randolph, Howard, Macon, Sullivan, and Carroll Counties primarily, but has had the good fortune to have been involved in cases in at least 25 of Missouri's counties thus far. Cliff's wife, Jennifer, added that they both very much enjoy seeing the various counties' court houses and being in them when they have had occasion to be in other counties in the state. When asked what kinds of cases he preferred, Cliff was quick to reply that he liked criminal cases and juvenile cases the best.

When the busy father of two young boys was asked what he liked to do in his spare time, he replied that he enjoyed reading, hunting, and fishing. When he was asked about the recent entry of his old fire trucks in various towns' local parades, he was quick to say that he "had always liked old junk," and when he saw the two firetrucks for sale on Craigslist, he made a bid on them and was lucky enough to have his bid accepted. He also said that the trucks had to be towed in by tractor and then worked on until they were in running order before they could be entered in the local parades. The Thornburgs have two dogs, that also like to ride on the trucks in the parades with their owners, but only one of the dogs, Scout, by barking non-stop as the trucks go down the parade routes, really gets in the spirit and adds to the audio enjoyment of both participants and spectators.

Congratulations to Cliff Thornburg, Attorney at Law for being Keytesville Chamber of Commerce's March 2017 Business of the Month!.
